

BEDROS YERETZIAN, MORAG KEIL, AND NICOLE-ANTONIA SPAGNOLA
LIFE LIVE

JANUARY 29 – MARCH 5, 2023

Reena Spaulings presents a collaborative exhibition by two artists from Los Angeles and one from London.

The slideshow projects scenes of contemporary life, using film developed with instant coffee, piss, and vitamin C. A city symphony, realized as a fixed sequence of still images. Different metropolitan landscapes are made indistinct from one another, with few exceptions, a result of the processing materials but also how things are. The three editions of the work are presented simultaneously in the space.

The works on canvas are new versions of an established idea, made with copper paint, piss, and their corresponding reaction—a generic effect with novel make-up. Some of the works were made on found oil paintings.
